This onslaught map breaks away from the norm that we seem to get just about every map, and I like what I see! The map played very well for me.

Frag brothers say: Looking for something different to gaze upon? Here you go!

This onslaught map breaks away from the norm that we seem to get just about every map, and I like what I see! The map played very well for me. It's not what you call a big map, but then it has a few nice features to play. Shall we take a tour of ICEYbo2?

I like this map based on the fact that it's different and it played well. All too often you see the same thing mapped over and over, and change is good. Makes you wonder what can be made for the next one?

This map can be found at NaliCity.
