Another year has passed and although Co30 has been a bit quiet we are still alive and well.Â As our members get a bit more mature (i.e.: older) life's responsibilites seem to take a bit of time from gaming.Â Of course it doesn't help that UT3 was so hardware hungry and a bit of a dud as far as gaming goes.Â We all pop in from time to time to play a game or two on our server so come in, say hi and join in the fragging fun.
